Last updated: May 21, 2018

Leonardo Yachts BV is committed to respecting the privacy of every individual who visits our web site. Any information we collect about you will be used to fulfil any service you might request and improve how, as a company, we deal with you. We will only use the information that we collect about you lawfully.

This information will not be disclosed to anyone outside of Leonardo Yachts or its associated companies, partners, and other companies with which Leonardo Yachts has arranged services for your benefit.

The information we hold will be accurate and up to date. You have the right as an individual to find out what information we hold about you and make changes if necessary; you also have the right to ask us to not use the information.

This Privacy Policy outlines how we collect, use and transfer information provided to us by consumers when you use our websites or contact forms at www.leonardoyachts.com or provide personal information when visiting our yachts at boat shows or events. Leonardo Yachts BV may change this policy from time to time by updating this page. You should check this page from time to time to ensure that you are happy with the changes.

Information Collected and Uses

Upon visiting our Website, you will not be required to log in to see all of the information about our yachts and yacht services. There is no need to provide us with personally identifiable information ("Personal Information"), however you may provide us Personal Information directly by submitting a form so that we may contact you ("Connect") or keep you informed by sending you our "Newsletter". Each newsletter offers you the option to unsubscribe at the bottom of the newsletter and delete your information from our mailinglist.

The information on a Connect form includes your name, address, email address, phone contact number, country, and models interested in. If you do not submit a Connect form the only information we collect will be automatic tracking information in the form of a cookie from Google Analytics software which we use on our site. Consumers who submit a Connect form will have their cookie information matched to the Personal Information submitted. We use this Personal Information to manage how and when we contact you as well as your preferred means of communication, prior inquiry history, and possible boat purchase information from our sales records. This Personal Information also allows us to respond to your questions and social media communication as well as providing you with more information on our yachts, yacht services, and our company overall.
